Jury calls for ATC controls

A Coroner's jury has recommended that the operation of three wheeled motorized vehicles, commonly referred to as ATCs, be governed by regulations similar to those contained in the Ontario Motorized Snow Vehicles Act. The recommendation was one of three which the jury, probing the death of Gregory Roy Fallahay and Howard Jason Jamieson, ages ten and eleven respectively, made after deliberating for close to two hours Thursday.

The inquest had been called after the two youths were killed while riding an ATC in the vicinity of Mountain Lake, May 15. The pair, with Fallahay driving, and Jamieson a passenger, had crossed Highway 35 near Mountain View Drive. As they attempted to cross the highway again, they emerged from a ditch, between two guard rails, into the path of an oncoming car.

The jury found that the ATC was struck by the front left bumper of the vehicle throwing the youths from the machine. The cause of death was multiple injuries.

The jury recommended the inclusion of ATC's in the snowmobile act, "...because

Over 500 enjoy HHSS reunion

After some concern over how the celebration was being accepted, the organizers of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School thirtieth anniversary reunion and homecoming were extremely pleased with the number of students and staff who gathered in Haliburton on the weekend.

"We had 497 former students and staff register with us," HHSS principal and member of the organizing committee Dale Robinson commented. "There were also a number of people in attendance who did not register, so we had well over 500 on hand for the festivities."

The reunion opened Friday evening with a dance at the high school and a reception at which students and staff from the past 30 years had a chance to mingle. "Many of the individuals brought old pictures with them and these created a great deal of interest," Robinson noted.

Throughout Saturday the school was open again to give the visitors a chance to tour their alma mater. The highlight of the weekend however was the dinner and dance at the Legion in Haliburton. "We had a full house at the Legion," the organizer stated. "The meal was excellent, the evening provided an excellent opportunity for old friends to get together again."

Robinson noted that the greatest interest in the reunion seemed to come from students from the 1950's, 1960's and early 70's. Many of the former staff members at the high school also returned for the reunion, including the first principal of the school, Norm Sisco.

"It was a great weekend," Robinson commented. "I think everyone is really pleased with the way it turned out."

As for the staff and students of HHSS can expect another get together like this, Robinson thinks they'll have to wait 20 years. "The fiftieth reunion will probably be the next big anniversary to be celebrated," he said.

For the moment though, the organizing committee is analyzing what went right and what went askew this time. The information will be prepared in report form then sealed in an envelope for those who, perhaps 19 years down the road, decide it's time for another reunion at HHSS.

Special education study begins

A study into four particular areas of education in Haliburton County will be carried out this fall by an internal assessment group. The study is part of a Ministry of Education funded program known as Co-operative Evaluation and Development of School Systems, CEDSS for short.

Douglas Mitchell, a teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School is the chairman of the internal committee. He has been granted a leave of absence to head the CEDSS committee.

Mitchell explained that an advisory group was formed last spring to consider various areas for consideration after the board of education agreed to participate in the program. After considering a number of options, the committee selected four areas of concentration. The CEDSS committee will be examining English instruction from Kindergarten to Grade 13; intermediate mathematics (grades 7 to 10) the role of the teacher and principal; and the role of the director of education.

Actually four sub-committees will be formed to look into each of these areas. Membership on the committees will include representation from rate-payers, teachers, principals and trustees. Students could be asked to participate as well by answering questionnaires or taking part in interviews or surveys.

The four sub-committees are just being formed and it will be up to the members of the groups to decide how they wish to examine their area of concern.

It is expected the groups will have completed their reports by next February.

At that time representatives from the Ministry of Education will visit the area. This team of experts will examine the recommendations prepared by the committees, the methods used to reach those conclusions, and carry out their own assessment. The two groups will then meet to discuss any discrepancies which may exist between their final findings. This joint consideration will then lead to a final report which will be presented to the board and the public for consideration.

"The objective of this exercise is to get the board of education and those concerned with the system to examine what they are doing educationally," Mitchell commented. "It's a chance to stop and take a look at what we have been doing, simply because 'it has always been done that way', and determine if there might not be a better method."

Mitchell noted that the final report of the committee, expected next May, is a set recommendations, not a directive to the board of education.

The chairman said that the core subjects of English and math were chosen for investigation because of the important role they play in the curriculum of all students. Likewise the role of the teacher, principal director of education is vital to the success of the educational effort.

"We will be looking for the co-operation of the public in a number of areas," Mitchell commented. "I hope people, if they are asked for an interview or to fill out a questionnaire, will take the time to participate and have some input into the evaluation of our education system."

Training centre opens Saturday

The official opening ceremonies for the Gull River Training Centre will take place on Saturday, September 24.

This event to herald the completion of construction of the new building at the Minden Wild Water Preserve.

The centre will be headquarters for training and racing activities and has been specifically designed for storage or equipment, lectures, and meetings as well as other activities such as outdoor education.

It will also provide cooking facilities, washrooms and weather protected areas for all season use.

Dignitaries will be on hand to officially open the building. John Eakins, MPP will be honoured at the opening and the Reeve of Minden, Lyle McKnight, will also be present.

The public is invited and refreshments will be served. Entrance to the Preserve is off the Bethel Rd. just across the bridge above the dam.

Also on tap this weekend for the Wild Water Preserve is the Ontario Provincial Kayak Slalom Championships.

The practise runs for the event will begin Saturday afternoon in the river and continue throughout the day. Competition is slated for Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m.

Spectators are invited to view the action from any number of vantage points along either side of the run. There is no admission charge.

Jury probes ATC deaths

of the many similarities of the ATC as compared to the snowmobile in both use and operation, with particular attention being given to sections 5, 6, 7 and 8," (of the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act. These sections cover licensing, road access, age of drivers and other matters related to the operation of snowmobiles on or near public roads.)

The jury, in addition to recommending the incorporation of the ATC-type vehicles into the Motorized Snow Vehicle Act, also suggested that any purchaser of an ATC receive a copy of the act when purchasing the machine or, registering it and that the copies of the act be made readily available to any interested party.

As well the jury of two men and three women suggested that safety awareness of ATC should be promoted. Specifically the jury recommended, "It should be realized that because of the growing popularity of the ATC, more public awareness is necessary on basic safety and operation instruction, to bring their attention to the hazards that can occur with improper use, possibly using the schools and media for this purpose."

The significance of the recommendations from this hearing could be far reaching. The provincial government has tabled legislation covering the operation of ATC. Bill 61, as it is known, has received first reading in the Provincial Legislature.

The thought was expressed by a number of individuals appearing before the hearing that any recommendations the jury made could be used to amend or change the proposed legislation.

The incorporation of the ATCs in the Snowmobile

Act is important, especially in regard to crossing public thoroughfares, one individual appearing before the inquest stated. It was pointed out that Bill 61 does not make any provisions for road crossing with the ATCs which means that driving the vehicles on a public thoroughfare would be covered under the Highway Traffic Act.

The Motorized Snow Vehicles Act does set out regulations for use of snowmobiles on public trails, crossing roads and driving on roads. Drivers must be at least 12 years of age and hold a snowmobile operator's licence to use public trails; must be at least 14 years of age and hold a similar licence to cross any public roadway, and then only at a 90 degree angle; and be at least 16 years of age, hold a driver's licence or snowmobile operator's licence to operate the machine on a public road, where permitted.

Other points made during the hearing include:

- a warning was imprinted on the ATC indicating that passengers were not to be carried on the machine. However, Mr. Fallahay was told when he purchased the machine that a second set of foot rests were available and could be attached to the machine.

- the cushion used for the rear rack of the ATC is not manufactured by Honda. A warning about passengers is also printed on the cushion.

- both children were wearing helmets at the time of the accident.

- close to 70,000 ATCs have been sold across Canada.

- Steve Berry of the local Prentice - Berry Honda dealership estimated that only 10% of the ATCs sold by him are licenced for road use.

- several witnesses, including a spokesman for the motorcycle industry, a representative of the Traffic Injury Research Foundation of Ottawa and the coroner, Dr. J. P. MacKay, emphasized the need for greater education of the public in the safe handling of ATCs and their potential dangers.

Levels continue to drop

The storage lakes in the upper watershed of the Trent-Severn Waterway declined 4.1% since September 6 and stood at 44.9% of full capacity on September 12. The outflow from these lakes was increased last week due to falling water levels on the navigation system.

September usually sees a sharply reduced demand for water from the storage lakes as evaporation losses decrease, and rainfall increases. The year, due to the extremely dry conditions in July and August, inflow to the Kawartha Lakes from rainfall and groundwater has been so low that the demand for storage lake is still greater than it is during the average summer period. During the past week, the outflow from the Kawartha Lakes has been only about one-half the total flow being brought in from the storage lakes and yet the lake levels have not risen all week.

The Trent-Severn Waterway method of operation is to maintain all the storage lakes at the same percentage of storage capacity until Thanksgiving weekend, then run off any surplus water as quickly as possible. This year many of the lakes are already at the level they normally reach by mid-October, but the continued demand for water is making it impossible to keep all the lakes at the same percentage of capacity. As mentioned last week, each dam has a normal number of "winter logs" left in the dam over the winter. This year we are having to remove some of these to get the required amount of water. These will be replaced later in the fall following the close of the navigation season.

A MESSAGE TO PARENTS REGARDING FLUORIDE SUPPLEMENTS

Fluoridation of the water supply reduces tooth decay by 66%.

However, in our Health Unit Area, no municipal water supplies are fluoridated.

If children up to 14 years of age take daily fluoride supplements (tablets or drops), benefits equivalent to fluoridation can still be obtained.

(These benefits are in addition to those received from fluoride toothpastes, treatments and mouth-rinsing programs.)

To ensure your child is receiving the correct dosage, contact your physician, dentist, or Health Unit Dental Services for a prescription for Fluoride Supplements.

Families with private wells should first obtain a free water test kit (for fluoride) from your local Health Unit office. Many wells in our area contain adequate natural fluoride.

ATC controls needed

It is unfortunate that lives must be lost before lessons are learned.

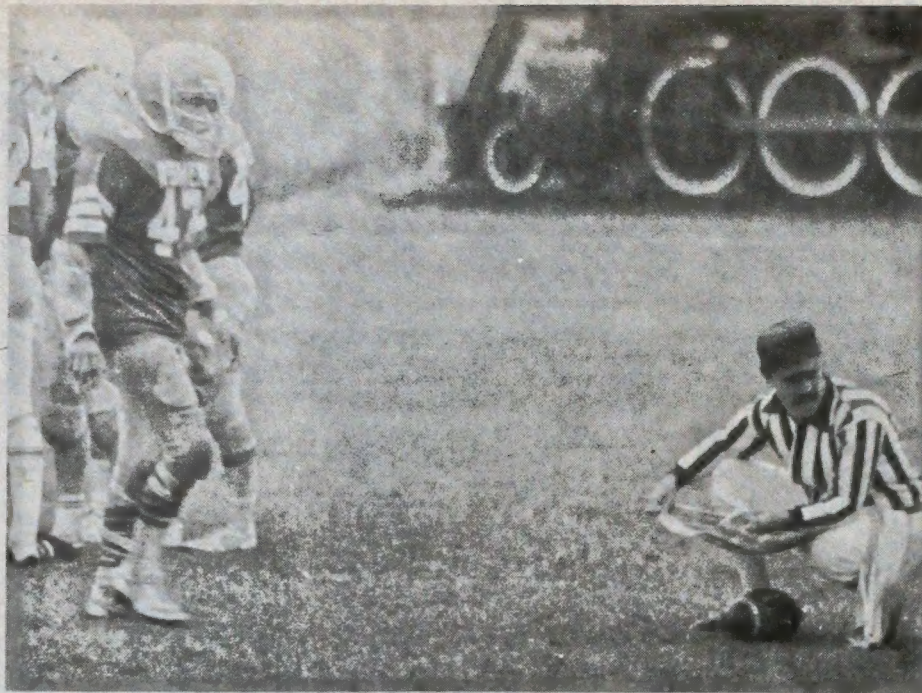

This past week an inquest in Minden examined in detail the tragic death of two children in an accident involving a three wheeled motorized vehicle, commonly known as an ATC. The jury, in making its recommendations stressed the need for greater awareness, on the part of the public, of the hazards in operating these recreational vehicles. It also suggested that the laws, when they are finally enacted, governing the operation of these machines, be made readily available to the public. Both sensible ideas.

Because of the nature of the machines, and how they are being used, the jury has also suggested that regulations controlling ATC use be incorporated into the Motorized Snow Vehicle Act, the legislation which governs the use of snowmobiles. We understand that the Bill currently before the Legislature (Bill 61) regarding the use of ATCs does not deal with two important factors, use of the machines on public roads and, more specifically, crossing public thoroughfares.

Under the snowmobile act, these matters are clearly spelled out allowing for drivers under 16 years of age to operate the machines under clearly defined limits. In particular, the Motorized Snow Vehicles Act, does not permit a person under 16 years of age to cross a public road or use a public trail, unless he holds a special snowmobile drivers licence. To obtain that licence a specified course of instruction is required during which machine handling, safety, and provincial regulations are stressed.

Like the snowmobiles before them, the ATCs have become a very popular form of recreation. And like the snowmobile they hold a great deal of appeal for young people. The province should recognize this and create regulations which reflect the fact that young people will be using the machines, they will more than likely have to cross public roads, if not travel along some, to search public trails, and that licencing of those under 16 years of age is probably the best way of ensuring the message of safety gets through to the young drivers.

The recommendations of the Coroner's jury should form a base on which the province creates legislation to reduce the chance that such an accident will ever occur again.

Like a mother hen guarding her egg, this referee stands over the football, shielding it from the pelting rain Friday afternoon during the opening game of the season.

Taming the Hydro giant

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

This is the second part of the discussion regarding Ontario Hydro and nuclear power in Ontario. As I suggested last week, I hope you will take the opportunity to read the complete column, for while it is double the length of my normal Queen's Park report, I feel the questions which people have been asking deserve an answer. I am, therefore, pleased to make this information available to you.

David Peterson emphasizes that the Pickering accidents add to the litany of Hydro's problems. Accidents at the 12-year-old plant show that failures occur in relatively young facilities. Some 1,374 "unusual events" occurred at Pickering between 1970 and 1979. According to a Lakehead University report, 550 (40%) resulted from human error, indicating that "carelessness or unsafe work habits are a major cause". While the human factor will always be a consideration, additional technical questions arise.

Can a satisfactory solution be found to the safe disposal of radio-active wastes? Could we experience an accident, similar to the Three Mile Island disaster, shutting down a plant for years, possibly for ever?

Diversity is one answer. Hydro-electric, fossil-thermal and other sources (wind, solar and small scale hydro) must form a secure portion of a non-nuclear dominated electrical power system.

High nuclear plant construction and operating costs are pushing consumer rates sky high, jeopardizing Ontario's financial soundness. Plants cost billions to construct, and loans for construction take nearly the lifetime of the plant to repay. Darlington costs are at $12 billion, up from an original estimate of $3.4 billion. Prices for nuclear plants have almost quadrupled in the last decade, and by the end of this year Hydro will accumulate a debt for these costs of $18.5 billion - $2,126 for every man, woman and child in Ontario. Moreover, Hydro is committed to borrowing another $18 billion to complete nuclear plants now under construction.

Hydro admitted in June '82 that "...rising front end costs for nuclear plants have eaten into their relative cost advantage (over coal) and made financing difficult." Rising costs calculated by the industry do not take full account of the real costs calculated by the industry of decommissioning, waste disposal and accident repairs. U.S. studies indicate decommissioning would cost as much as plant construction. Radioactive plant site and facilities must be entombed, to protect the public from contamination for thousands of years.

Hydro has consistently overestimated consumption, stretching to the limit Ontario's financial resources. Its borrowing exceeds total government borrowing to finance all provincial programs - $17.5 billion. In 1982, interest totalled $1.7 billion and Hydro resorted to risky "capitalizing" interest - borrowing money to pay interest on borrowed funds.

Hydro must also borrow to pay back old bonds which are maturing. A default could be disastrous for Hydro's credit rating. Of the $2.85 billion it borrowed in 1982, it committed $631 million to "roll-over" or re-finance old bonds.

The prospect for the next seven years is ominous as Hydro adds $18 billion to its debt load. It is only prevented from exhausting its ability to borrow because its loans are guaranteed by the government - the taxpayers, and it expects its customers to absorb higher electrical rates and increase consumption. Rate increase requests far outstrip inflation. Hydro sought a rate increase of 13.9 per cent for last year, increases of 16.4 per cent for this year, 16.2 per cent in 1984 and 1985 respectively. Turned down by the Ontario Energy Board, it is now asking only 9.7 per cent this year - still higher than inflation.

Meanwhile, Hydro pursues customers, promoting increased use of electrical energy, despite its primary mandate to supply electricity on request and promote conservation. Flawed forecasting has led Hydro to build a system capable of generating 50 per cent more power than it needs. Perhaps markets will be found in the U.S., but competition is fierce, with Quebec Hydro and Tenn-

Fall is in the air these days as we approach the autumnal equinox with shorter days and cooler nights. But don't pack away all your summer clothes yet. The march of the seasons which brings so much diversity to our temperate climate has followed a different beat this past year and may hold a few more surprises in the weeks and months ahead. A lot depends on El Nino, a warm ocean current which periodically overrides the cold Humboldt current off the west coast of South America.

Climatologists with Environment Canada are quick to point out that Ontario's weather is largely the result of random combinations of various climatic factors and prediction is really just a matter of probabilities - guessing the odds. But the unusually mild winter, cool wet spring and hot dry summer which we have just experienced was part of a world wide pattern of dramatic and devastating climate disturbance. And it apparently centered on the largest known occurrence of El Nino (pronounced el Neen-yo), 30,000,000 square kilometers of warm water.

According to Amir Shabbar of Environment Canada, the earliest known link in the causal chain of this phenomenon is a reversal in direction of the powerful Pacific trade winds, from west to east, the result of unexplained changes in atmospheric pressure. This allows large masses of warm water normally blown up against Australia and other western Pacific shores to rush across the ocean to the coast of South America where they override the nutrient-rich Humboldt current, cutting off the food source for many species of fish. One consequence was that the entire bird population on Christmas Island abandoned their nestlings and disappeared in the past year.

There are weather effects as well. South America endured heavy rainfall from the heat and moisture evaporated into the atmosphere. Elsewhere in the Pacific droughts replaced precipitation. The resulting toll in the human life, property loss and agricultural failure is staggering. Roughly 220 deaths and a $7 billion agricultural loss were attributed to it in the United States alone. Here at home the drought has severely cut crop yields and reportedly contributed to the serious pollution of Toronto beaches.

essee Valley Authority seeking markets for surplus power.

Two recent revelations demonstrate the worsening financial situation of Ontario Hydro: (1) Ontarians will have to pay through hydro bills and tax levies for the cost of nuclear accidents; (2) Hydro intends to borrow another $10.1 billion over the next five years - $3.18 billion in 1983 - to fund its mistaken priorities and the runaway nuclear accidents with A.E.C.L. offers scant comfort to Ontario taxpayers, who already pay a large share of A.E.C.L.'s budget through their tax dollars. Under its contract with A.E.C.L., Hydro expended $217 million more than it received. This money could have been better used to reduce a debt load that will skyrocket to $28.6 billion by 1987 if Hydro is not brought under control. This alarming debt is guaranteed by the Ontario government, and within four years will represent an average indebtedness of $13,148 for every family of four.

The latest issue of Hydro's prospectus reveals that only 59 per cent of borrowing in 1983 will be used for construction programs. The rest is being used to "roll over" old debt.

Hydro's direction must be changed. It must be brought back to the people, accountable to elected representatives by reconstructing the Select Committee on Hydro Affairs. Otherwise, the alarm raised at Pickering will go unheeded - a perilous mistake.

difficult. Mr. Shabbar believes this occurrence of El Nino is drawing to a close. But above normal temperatures are still being reported off South America and as mistaken forecasts last year revealed, scientists have not yet developed a reliable system for predicting El Nino's behaviour. They're sure to keep trying since the "little one" may offer answers to climate patterns the world over. In the meantime the September - November Ontario forecast shows a 55 - 60% chance of warmer than normal temperatures.

Kicker connects

The football meets the foot of Redmen kicker Paul Vuksic as an I.E. Weldon player attempts to block the effort. The action was part of a game Friday afternoon in which the Redmen went on to defeat the visitors 9-0.

IF YOU DON'T REMEMBER YOU MAY NEVER FORGET.

There are some very good reasons to stop for stationary school buses. Such as the penalties for not stopping, which could include six demerit points, fines of up to $1,000 and even imprisonment.

But the most important reason of all is simply this: Your mistake could cost a child's life. And that kind of mistake is never forgotten.

So remember, drivers going in both directions must stop for a school bus flashing its red lights. And drivers approaching from behind must stop at least 20 metres (about 4 car lengths) behind the bus.

And this year, there's something new to watch for. Every school bus in Ontario is now equipped with a STOP SIGN ARM that is automatically raised when children are getting on or off a school bus.

So keep an eye out this fall for flashing lights and stop signs on school buses. Please, don't take a chance with the life of a child.

Rural women subject of study

An investigation into the impact of isolation on rural women in Haliburton County is about to be undertaken this winter. The study is being carried out by Dr. Elizabeth Cape of the University of Toronto. She announced details of her study in the keynote address given to the annual meeting of the Haliburton Home Support Services held Friday at the PineStone Inn.

Cape pointed out that in general the population of Canada is aging. The group experiencing the most rapid growth, according to the professor, is those over 85 years. She noted as well that, on the average, women live longer than men. "At age 65 there are 140 women for every 100 men. At age 85, there are 242 women for every 100 men," she pointed out.

"We know there are a lot more older women, but we don't know that much about them," Professor Cape stated. "That is the purpose of this study."

The professor pointed out that women have always acted the role of "care givers" in our society. However, she noted that these "care givers" are soon to become the "care needers". "Those who need and give care will be the same individuals," she commented.

As well as examining the situation of rural women in Haliburton County, Professor Cape will also be looking at the condition of rural women in Northumberland County where she was raised. She noted the two areas vary greatly in that Northumberland is a prosperous agricultural region while Haliburton County relies more on cottages and tourism.

Professor Cape described rural women as "invisible". "We know they are there, but beyond their involvement in church and home, they seem to have little visibility in the community. There certainly isn't 'networking' in the rural areas to bring these people together on a regular basis. I don't know how you feel about it, but I don't like the idea of being 'invisible'."

Cape described rural Ontario as a male dominated area. "Women have no voice in the councils of power," she commented. "I've never heard of a woman being elected to local council. Programs like those being operated by the Haliburton Home Support Services just don't exist in Northumberland."

As an example of the male domination in the rural areas, she noted that a drop-in centre for seniors had been constructed in Northumberland County. "It is a place where the retired farmers meet on a regular basis. The women only get there several times a month for a card party, often to be on hand to serve the lunch."

In her investigation of rural Ontario Professor Cape has discovered what she described as "incredible loneliness, a hidden kind of loneliness." She said that people are often ashamed to admit they are lonely. "It is more than a matter of meeting people's practical needs. These needs are important but, as it has been said, 'one does not live by bread alone.'"

Cape told the meeting that in her investigations there were very few individuals who claimed they could count on someone on a regular basis. She pointed out that family ties do not fill the gap and the isolation of rural women becomes a more serious situation because of longer distances and the fact that many older women do not drive.

"I was shattered to find there were people who could not identify someone who they could count on. For us older women, we are going to have to be there for one another, we're going to have to find out more about one another. Once we have that information, we will be able to change the things which are creating problems for us all."

In an effort to get senior rural women more involved with this effort, Professor Cape announced that she would be employing ten women from the local community to help her with the survey. "Who better to speak to the people of the area than those who live here." She invited those interested in assisting with the project to contact her after the meeting for more details.

Alberta Maitland thanked the speaker on behalf of the organization and commended her on the study she was undertaking.

Officers elected

Following the speech, the officers for the Haliburton Home Support Services were elected for 1983-84. Serving as president this year will be Elsie Bursey of Carnarvon. Other members of the executive include: first vice president Vicky Agnew of Wilberforce; second vice president Gloria Lemieux of Minden; secretary Dorothy Robinson of Gooderham; treasurer Aileen Robertson of Haliburton and past chairman, Ivan Hunter of Gooderham.

A directorate was also selected with representatives chosen for various areas throughout the county. The following individuals will represent their areas: Blairhampton - Billy Shuyler; Cardiff - Jack Gedney; Carnarvon - Mildred Archer; Donald - Violet Fader; Dorset - Marg Walkden; Eagle Lake - Muriel Allport; Gelert - Roby Francis; Gooderham - Sharon Sauve; Haliburton - Fred Love and Dorothy Baker; Haliburton Lake - Lilian Haight; Halls Lake - Dean Hodgson; Harcourt - Faye Shosenbueg; Highland Grove - Gilbert Rowley; Ingoldsby - Gladys Francis; Irondale - Violet Cooke; Kenisis Lake - Jim Wilkinson; Lochlin - Bessie Burk; Lutterworth - Isobel Robertson; Maple Lake - Everett Harding; Minden - Betty Turner and Georgina Deeks; Tory Hill - Maurine Finlay; West Guilford - Ev Stata; Wilberforce - Bruce Gibbs.

The meeting concluded with a social hour.

Thirty brave rain for tourney

Rainy weather Sunday did not deter over 30 hearty golfers who took part in the third annual Times Autumn Open golf tournament at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Club. The avid golfers braved a number of heavy showers during the first hour of the 18 hole tournament, before the weather became somewhat more cooperative.

The inclement weather did not seem to have an impact on the scores, however. The low gross of the day was turned in by Doug Kirkham who carded a 71 to claim top honours in the tournament. The low net, a 65, was registered by Don Pasquino. Both golfers were taking part in the Autumn Open for the first time and were among a large number of newcomers who participated.

The two led the winners to a prize table containing over $400 worth of merchandise and gift certificates from local merchants. The prizes were handed out following a delicious roast turkey dinner served at the Royal View Lodge.

Among the other golfers to select a prize from the table were: second low gross winner Ken Rosenberg with a 74; Kevin Finch second low net with a 65; third low gross winner Dick Davies with a score of 77; third low net Howard Anderson with a 66; fourth low gross Bob Nichol with a 77; Wayne Ellison, fourth low net with a 66; fifth low gross winner

Randy Ellison with an 80; and fifth low net winner Buster Anderson with a score of 67.

Redmen win season opener

The HHSS Redmen opened the 1983 football season with a pair of wins Friday afternoon at the high school. The seniors defeated the visiting I.E. Weldon team 9 - 0 while the juniors came up with a convincing 34 - 0 shutout of the Bulldogs.

The tone of the rainy afternoon was set on the opening play. The senior Redmen scored the first time they took possession of the ball. The advance was started by a pass to Bill Whittaker who was taken down roughly and sustained a broken ankle. His services will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

The drive to the goal line was continued with two pass completions to Rob McLeod from quarterback Greg Pearson. The quarterback then kept the ball and dove for a TD from the three yard line. The conversion by Paul Vuksic was good.

Vuksic also attempted a field goal in the first quarter, however the kick was wide and the Redmen realized only a single point.

There was no scoring in the second quarter. The defensive team showed good strength in many plays, keeping the attackers from the goal line on a number of occasions. Steve Smith intercepted a Bulldog pass while Lyle Coghlan recovered a fumbled ball.

The third quarter was also scoreless. Terry Sicard grabbed an I.E. Weldon fumble deep in the Haliburton end to reverse a drive by the Bulldogs.

The final point of the game came in the fourth quarter off the boot of Paul Vuksic.

Coach Gary Brohman said he was pleased with the showing of the team. He noted the I.E. Weldon squad proved to be tough opposition and the seniors had earned their victory. Players of note in the game included, defensively, Brett Foster, Rich Choy, Terry Allore, Rob McLeod, Tim Beaver and Steve Smith. Offensively, Gred Pearson, Rob McLeod, Terry Hobden and Keith Foster had outstanding games.

Juniors win

The junior contest reflected the same outcome with the team having greater dominance over the visiting entry. The Redmen defensive unit effectively shut down the Bulldog offensive team, with very few yards being gained throughout the game.

The first points for Haliburton came on an eight yard run by Mike McNaull. Lennie Johnston converted.

Following the TD, the Redmen kicked off short and the kicker, Mike McNaull recovered the ball to begin the march for the second touchdown. McNaull scored on a triple option play, orchestrated by quarterback Trevor Powers. The convert was missed.

In the second half, the Redmen were forced into a punting situation. Ron McDonald booted the ball which landed near the Bulldogs end zone. A player for the opposition attempted to pick up the ball but fumbled it. Jeff Hancock jumped on the ball in the end zone for the touch down. A two point conversion was scored on a pass from Trevor Powers to Alec Little.

Two more touchdowns were scored in the final quarter of the game. Mike Blake scored on a four yard carry with the convert by Lennie Johnston. The other TD came on a 25 yard play with Trevor Powers scoring.

Outstanding players for the junior included, offensively, Mike McNaull, Trevor Powers, Mike Blake, Glen Hall and Jeff Hancock. Defensively a good game was turned in by Rob Mifflin, Peter Allore, Paul Allore, Ron McDonald and Tom McLeod.

The Redmen play Brock High School this Friday in Cannington with the next home game slated for September 30 at 2 p.m. They will be playing Fenelon Falls.

Soccer team scores victory

The HHSS soccer team has opened the season with a victory. The team played I.E. Weldon high school of Lindsay on Wednesday and defeated them 3 - 1.

Goals for the Redmen were scored by Tim Wood, Serve Smith and Chris Laporte.

The team travels to Lindsay this week to meet the team from L.C.V.I.

Tough year for Guild

It has been a tough year for the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts, but members of the executive are optimistic that the future will be brighter. That was the message brought to the group's annual meeting held September 10 at the Haliburton Curling Club.

The organization's treasurer Al Oakley noted the group experienced a deficit of just over $9000 during the past year of operation. This compares with a surplus the year before of just over $2000. Oakley said that much of the deficit was a result of reduced fund raising. He told the meeting the organization should be raising between $20,000 and $25,000 per year through fund raising efforts to help keep the guild financially sound.

President Carole Finn noted that two years earlier the guild had raised $15,000 in donations. This past year only $5688 was donated to the guild. She suggested that the slowdown in the economy could be blamed for part of the decrease, but the fact the board's attention was concentrated on other areas, also diverted energy which could have been directed at fund raising.

Oakley said a new corporate membership would be introduced this year to give businesses an opportunity to participate in the growth of the guild and gallery.

"It has been a tough year," the treasurer stated. "But is also proved that we could do it. It was a year when people were questioning the future of the guild. We're still here."

Carole Finn, in her president's report to the meeting, noted that the controversy surrounding the dismissal of gallery curator Lucinda St. Pierre had occupied a great deal of the board's time during the year. She paid tribute to the contribution of Toronto lawyer Josh Liswood in assisting the guild during the controversy.

Looking ahead to the new year, Finn said the board will have to determine how to realize savings in the operation of the gallery. She noted the group has attempted to maintain a 12 month a year operation, but if increased funding or reduced operating costs cannot be realized, the guild may have to close the gallery for a part of the year.

Finn also announced the creation of a policy book for the operation of the guild and gallery. The book spells out functions of various guild members and officials. The rough draft of the policy book was circulated.

An honorary membership was confirmed on Lorne Coburn of Minden. Mr. Coburn served a term on the guild's board of directors, has been a member of the Sir Sandford Fleming board of directors for eight years, and, in the words of Carole Finn, "has been very supportive of our efforts at the guild."

On behalf of the members of the guild, Linda Beachli expressed appreciation to a number of board members and staff. In an emotional moment, Beachli told the audience, "The gallery wouldn't be here if it wasn't for Carole."

The election of officers for the coming year followed, with the individuals being selected for the board of directors for the 1983-84 term: Jackie Banks, Linda Beachli, Paulette Blake, Barb Bolin, Barbara Carver, Norma Douglas, Mike Easton, Dorene Elstone, Carole Finn, Dr. Harry Good, Mary Hastings, Audrey Heywood, Barbara Peel, Bob Penfold and Ken Wilson.

The best little warehouse in Haliburton!!

senior league

by Bert Harrison

Well, readers, isn't it nice to have wather a little cooler? It has been so hot and sultry it makes one wish sometimes that we were back in the country.

We had a real interesting service in the chapel Sunday night. The Thompsons took the first part. Harold read the lesson, also offered prayer. Then Rev. Burgess took over from there. Now this may sound funny, but the subject he talked about was money. In Luke, chapter twenty-one, Jesus looked up and saw the rich casting their gifts into the treasury. He also saw the poor widow cast in her two mites, and he said, "I say of a truth, this widow has cast in more than all the rest and she will be truly blessed".

Monday morning down at Fun and Fitness, Wilbert Sisson won over all, playing Bucket Ball. Our administrator, Sydney Brown, Olive Hamilton, Doris Robertson and Melinda Wood have gone to Toronto to discuss better ways to operate senior citizens' homes and left Arnie Wright in the office all alone. Now Arnie is a gal that really can take it, if she doesn't know how to do a thing she will find a way or make it. We hope they have real interesting discussions and everything goes well.

When Mary Oliver left us here a couple of months ago, the only way she got around was in a wheel chair, you know. Now she is back with us again, with a new cap on her knee, and with the help of a walker, is walking, which is good to see.

Tuesday morning, Pastor Wicks of Minden Gospel Church held a service in the chapel that was very fine. He took his message from Psalm one hundred thirty-nine. On such a lovely day, Agnes and Barbara came to sing and play. Tuesday afternoon instead of cards or Bingo playing here, Linda showed us three interesting movies, "Express Link to Europe," "Crown of Glass" and "Santa's Reindeer". Tuesday night Payne and Deacon came, after an absence of two months or

Kinette corner

With summer over and fall setting in, last Tuesday marked the first Kinette meeting of the season.

There was a good turn out of Kinettes, who enjoyed catching up on summer news, while eating a delicious meal. We had a lengthy business session, discussing the various projects planned for the upcoming year.

Kinette Joanne Cubidge provided us with great entertainment after the business. We played five games of bingo, with each winner receiving a Wintario ticket (giving them another chance to win something).

Kingratulations to Kinette Dora Foster who very recently became a grandmother and to Chris Brittain who is celebrating a birthday this week.

That's all for this month, I look forward to meeting again next month.

Cathy King

more, they brought a guest who hadn't been here before. I don't recall his surname but his first name was Rick. He surely knew how to make everything click. They played and sang some good old songs like, "You are my Sunshine" and "Home on the Range". We thank them for coming back to us again.

The ladies were working in the Craft Room Wednesday afternoon, making different items for the Christmas Bazaar, which will be coming up too soon. The Kinmount U.C.W. Ladies brought in a dainty lunch on Thursday afternoon, they served it so nicely and were gone too soon. Thursday night was Bingo night, sponsored by the Kinsman Club, and last night we understand that members of the Kinette Club lent a helping hand. Then Friday afternoon with Mrs. Coburn still away, we could have no sing-song, so we had a play, "The Wilderness Robinson Family". This was the last of a three part play, "The Wilderness Family". We are sure that most enjoyed all three. We thank our girls again for keeping us well entertained.

On weekends sons and daughters come from far and near, to visit parents that they hold most dear. We think this is most fine. Some stay for lunch here, others go out to dine.

Senior sweepers on the links

The curling club senior members held their annual golf tournament at the Beaverbrook Golf Course on September 14.

President Al Stott did not play golf as he developed "tennis elbow" from telephoning approximately one hundred active and social members in Minden and Haliburton and surrounding area. However, his telephone information was relayed to Lloyd Boskett who set up the "fearless foursomes" to accommodate the 60 golfers, swingers, dubbers and duffers and they eventually all straggled back to the club house and had their scores recorded by Russ King. Later, all the players received their net scores after handicapping by Lloyd and Millie Boskett.

The participants then proceeded to the Curling Club, met other members and non-golfers and the 85 persons sat down to a catered plate of cold meats, salads, rolls, dessert and coffee. Doris Grant brewed the coffee, other ladies set out the silverware, cups, etc. and set up the tables.

Herb Gill filled his usual role and in addition had to make a draw to break a four-way tie for the low gross nine hole score between Russ King, Hal Burton, Jim Burton and Lou Tompkins. The winner was Lou Tompkins who received the trophy donated by G.A. (Sandy) Stewart. Unfortunately, the donor was not present but a hearty round of applause was expressed to Sandy for the trophy and also to the donor himself who celebrated a very important birthday on September 12. Many happy returns Sandy. We are not divulging your age. It, like the tournament golf scores is a secret.

Lloyd Boskett and Ed Pettinger proceeded to give out the many prizes of Wintario prizes and Haliburton trade dollars to the appropriate winners and had to shake the hand of each winner just in case he or she happened to be a "millionaire" and might consider making a large donation to the Senior Club. (It is now Saturday and no telephone call has been received at the Club) but we do have winners as follows: (a word of explanation as to prize winners). All couples were winning partners, not necessarily playing partners for the 18 hole total:

Low gross: Bruce Scribner and Ellen Scribner.

First low net: Cec. Riches (Club Trophy originally donated by Art Hodgkin-son) and Evelyn Henderson (Club Trophy originally donated by Ed Pettinger).

Next low net, in order of finish: Aulie Orpana and Vera Ward; Garnet Campbell and Verna Wagg; Jack Bassett and Millie Boskett; Bill Donnelly and Alberta Maitland; Ed Pettinger and Peggy Bassett; Herb Gill and Lorraine King; Jack Harrington and Muriel Welch; Wilf Jarvis and Lois Adamson.

We wish to report that we had no disqualifications and every one was an honest golfer, it had also been reported that Gladys Wruth and Al Barron each qualified for a prize as they are the two persons who took the most strokes for the first nine holes and thus were rewarded for their efforts.

President Al Stott thanked all for their attendance and participation, to the organizers and all who assisted, and also announced that there would be an inaugural party for members and potential members at the Club on October 3, at 7:30 p.m. for the 1983-84 curling season which will be starting on October 24, (depending on ice conditions).

Couple mark fifty-fifth

Jack and Hazel Gregory of Carnarvon celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary on the weekend with an open house. Over 80 friends and members of the family attended to help the couple mark the occasion.

Hazel, nee Moore, was born in Carnarvon. Her family moved to Toronto shortly after she was born. She met Jack in Toronto and they were married there.

They returned to Carnarvon in 1948, operating the Sunoco Service Station on Highway 35 until 1965. Between 1965 and 1975 they were proprietors of the gift shop next to the service station. That business was sold in 1975.

Those attending the anniversary celebrations included several members of the wedding party and a pen pal of Hazel's from Scotland with whom she has been corresponding for many years.

Hi kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a switch this week - it's all numbers. Look in the diagram of numbers for those given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip numbers.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: What did Paul Revere say when he finished his famous ride?

A: Whoa.

Q: Why can't it rain for two days continually?

Coming from our trip to the Maritimes, we played a game on the bus called Animal Bingo. You play it in the ordinary way of Bingo, but instead of calling a number where you have a number on your board corresponding with the caller, you call out in a voice resembling animals the passengers had chosen. You never heard so many hoot-ows, cats, roosters, dogs, etc. It really turned out to be a hilarious game. Everyone was breaking up with laughter, including our bus driver.

Friends of Amos Brubacher of Cambridge, formerly of Minden, will be sorry to hear he had to have surgery last week. We wish him well and all his friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The grandson of a Canning Lake couple has been appointed executive assistant to the new leader of the Progressive Conservative Party.

Bill Pristanski, the grandson of Bill and Olive

Riddell, Silverwood Road, Canning Lake, was appointed to the post earlier this month.

His selection as one of the two top assistants to the new party leader came as a bit of a surprise to Bill. He had been deeply involved in Mulroney's bid for the leadership of the party, however, after the campaign was completed the Sault Ste. Marie native had returned to Toronto to resume his job as manager of inventory systems development for Sears. However, Pristanski was not on the job long when the call came from Ottawa.

The 28 year old graduate of the University of Waterloo accepted the offer immediately. He has been involved in politics for most of his life, including serving as president of the Young Progressive Conservatives of Algoma District and Premier of the Ontario Youth Parliament.
